SEDALIA BUSINESS MEN TAKING HOLD IN EARNEST.

An Enthusiastic Meeting at Commercial Club Rooms. Another Meeting Friday Night.

Interest in the proposed Springfield, Sedalia, Marshall and Northern railroad is growing, and another enthusiastic meeting of capitalists and business men was held at the Commercial Club rooms this morning in pursuance to an invitation from the soliciting committee. Col. Crandall was absent, being out of the city on important business connected with the road. The attendance was large and embraced many of those enterprising business men who have made Sedalia what she is and whose time and money is always freely given to any enterprise that promises to benefit the Queen City.

Judge J. N. Dalby, chairman of the committee, called the meeting to order and briefly stated the purpose of the meeting to be to confer as to the proper steps to be taken in order to raise the balance of Pettis county's quota of stock subscription for the proposed road.

Judge Dalby stated that the charter of the company would expire in April unless active work was commenced by that time. Springfield, he said, was at work in earnest and had raised $75,000 besides the right of way through the city and valuable tracts of land for depot and other purposes, and are now securing the right of way through Greene county.

Judge Dalby also stated that he had been informed that certain Jefferson City people had made overtures to the Springfield people in order, if possible, to induce the building of the road to that point, there to connect with the Mexico branch of the Chicago & Alton, instead of through Sedalia and Marshall.

He thought, in view of all the circumstances, that Sedalia should go to work at once to raise the balance of the $60,000 asked for by those who are managing the proposed road.

Mr. Quigley stated that he understood from Mr. Crandall that a syndicate of capitalists had agreed to furnish the money to build the road, provided it could be built for the sum estimated by the engineer of the road, and provided also that the subsidies asked for should be raised. The estimates are already in the hands of the agents of these capitalists and they are being examined. In a short time the answer will be given and all will depend upon the raising of the subsidy requested of the people of the various counties. The preliminary work must be pushed now in order to be ready for active work by April. The proposed subscription is on easy terms; is in the form of notes, one-third payable when the road is built and in operation, one-third in one year and the other in two years after the completion of the road. Stock in the road is to be issued for this subscription, and if the road is properly managed the stock will be worth par. He was in favor of immediate action to raise the balance.

Mr. Cyrus Newkirk also spoke briefly in favor of raising the subsidy. He thought it a safe investment. If the road is built it will certainly be worth the expenditure; if it is not built no one will have to pay a dollar. He thought liberal subscriptions should be made by all.

The question of the locations of divisions and shops was raised, but Mr. Quigley said that nothing had been done, in that direction, leaving Sedalia, Springfield, Marshall and other towns free to work for their own interest in those matters after the road is built.

Mr. Henry Lamm was called for and spoke earnestly in favor of raising the subscription at once. One of the committees appointed at a former meeting had canvassed a part of the city and raised several thousand dollars, but he thought the general public should take hold of the matter and not expect a soliciting committee to personally do the work. He thought the proposition of the company was the fairest ever made in Sedalia.

Mr. McLaughlin thought an opportunity should be given all present to subscribe. This was done; the books opened and several thousand dollars subscribed.

Prof. Robbins thought a public meeting should be held, the matter thoroughly explained, the liberality of the business men appealed to and the money raised in that way.

Mr. Hye favored immediate subscriptions. Mr. Frensdorf favored immediate subscriptions by those present and a mass meeting later, and in the meantime committees to go ahead soliciting subscriptions.

Mr. Johnston spoke in favor of the enterprise and suggested that committees go ahead with the work until the time set for the mass meeting.

Mr. Bothwell was earnestly in favor of raising the fund. If the road is secured it will be money well invested. If we do not get the road we will have shown our enterprise anyhow.

On motion, it was decided to hold a mass meeting at the court house next Friday night to still further consider the matter, and a committee of Judge Dalby and Mr. Porter was appointed to advertise the meeting and secure the services of the Sedalia Military band.

On motion, three committees—Messrs. McLaughlin, Hye and Johnston; Messrs. Letts, Hoffman and McEnroe; and Messrs. White and Landmann—were appointed to continue the work of soliciting funds.

It is hoped that every citizen who has the interest of Sedalia at heart will attend the meeting and contribute liberally to this important enterprise.

INCENDIARY FIRE.

Many Lives Wantonly Placed in Danger.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 30.—An incendiary fire was started in a residence on Elm street this morning, and for a while it looked as if that portion of the city would be swept by a dreadful conflagration, and probably many lives lost.

The woman who keeps the house and her daughter were arrested.

THE CANAL CONVENTION.

An Important Meeting in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 30.—The Nicaragua canal conference met in this city this morning with Hon. Geo. L. Converse as chairman. The scandals involving the Panama company in France have encouraged the backers of the the American scheme to hope for a more general interest in the enterprise.

She Was Acquitted.

BINGHAMPTON, Nov. 30.—Mrs. DeLong, charged with the murder of her husband, was acquitted this morning.

A SENATOR FROM TEXAS.

One of the Most Prominent Men in That State Stops Over in the City.

A large distinguished looking old gentleman, with a florid complexion and a strongly chiseled face, and into whose hair the snow of many winters seemed to have drifted, sat in one of the boxes at the opera house last night and stroked his beard vigorously whenever anything seemed unusually amusing.

This aristocratic looking old gentleman was Senator Richard Coke, one of the brainiest men the great Lone Star state has ever given to the country. Senator Coke was on his way to Washington, where his constituents generally send him, whether or no, like Col. Maverick Brander, in "The Texas Steer."

He lives in a palatial home at Waco, and was one of the most prominent figures in Texas politics during the recent gubernatorial campaign. He stumped the state from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande for Hogg, of whom he was an ardent admirer. As a result he was assailed by the Dallas News, a part of the great A. H. Belo & Co., monopolistic newspaper syndicate of Texas. A stronger fight was made against him than even Hogg, the man whom he was supporting. Senator Coke is a courtly and elegant old gentleman of the old school. He had with him a magnificent lot of roses which he had plucked in his yard just before leaving Waco. More beautiful and fragrant ones could not be obtained in a hot house in the north. He is a great champion of his state and almost believes that the rising and setting sun touches Texas at two points at the same time.

Dangerously Sick.

Mrs. Pat. Finch, wife of the well-known Missouri Pacific engineer, is dangerously ill at her home on East Third street. Her ears are entertained that she will not recover.

TRIBUNE DEAD.

HE SUCCEDES TO THE ASSASSIN'S BULLET.

His Final Sufferings Said to Have Been Most Agonizing—Further Action in the Case.

Currie Tribue, the colored man living west of Sedalia, whose house was fired and himself shot by some unknown man about 3:30 o'clock on the morning of the 15th, died this morning at 3 o'clock from the results of his wound. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The deceased leaves a wife and two sons, aged respectively 17 and 19 years. His sufferings were said to have been the most intense.

This crime is still fresh in the minds of the readers of the DEMOCRAT, and it has never been rivalled in the criminal history of the county for its cowardly blackness.

Tribue, who was about 60 years old, was awakened early on the morning of the 15th by the barking of his dog. Upon going out doors, he discovered his house on fire and after putting it out, started on a further search when he met a man who shot him in the chest and then fired again, but missed him. The wounded man claimed to have recognized the assassin as Nathan Arnold, a colored man living near by, between whom there was an old grudge. Arnold was arrested for the crime and is now at liberty under a $3,000 bond. He will now be re-arrested and placed under a heavier bond.

The Coal Investigation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The congressional committee investigating the coal combine, met this morning and called a number of retail coal dealers as witnesses.

WANT A PARDON.

An Effort Being Made to Secure the Release of Doyle Letheridge, of Lexington.

Marshal Hamlett and ex-Marshall Chinn, both of Lexington, Mo., were in the city this morning en route to Jefferson City where they go to beg executive clemency for a young man now imprisoned in the penitentiary. They carried long petitions, signed by the most substantial citizens of Lexington and have great hopes that Gov. Francis will act favorably in the matter.

Somewhat over a year ago, a store was broken into at Lexington and robbed of a lot of dry goods, groceries, knives, etc., the whole not exceeding $50 in value. The crime was traced to three parties and all of them were arrested. One of them proved to be Doyle Letheridge, scarcely more than a boy, whom it seems his two grown accomplices had intimidated into taking part in the robbery. The young fellow had always borne a good reputation and was respected. The judge gave him three years in the penitentiary and he has now served something over a year. The mitigating circumstances aroused much sympathy in his behalf and a strong effort will be made to have him set free.

John T. Heard's Correspondence.

Hon. John T. Heard went south this morning on a business trip. Next Monday, accompanied by his wife and his parents, he will leave for Washington, D. C., where he will spend the winter ably discharging his official duties and making his constituents in the Seventh district feel that they have a gentleman worthy of their choice to represent them.

Mr. Heard is overwhelmed with correspondence which he finds impossible to properly attend to until he reaches Washington. He is working night and day to answer the letters with which the daily mails cover his desk, but at present there are over 500 which he has been unable to look over.

FIFTH YEAR OF THE GREAT BLACK BAND.

FROM THE LAND OF DYKES.

About Two Hundred West Bound Holland Immigrants Pass Through the City.

Foreign immigration was well represented at the union depot this afternoon. Nearly 200 sturdy men, women and children from Holland were passengers west to Alamosa, Col., where they will locate. They were being escorted to their destination by W. E. Hoyt, general passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, stationed at New York, and were in charge of A. Zoutman, general manager of the Holland-American Land and Immigration company, assisted by C. W. Vander Hoogt, delegate director. They presented a curious sight. Men with clothing of many colors and odd-looking guns strapped to their backs; women with all sorts of ornaments, and boys with "high-water" trousers and wooden shoes were there. Some of the better class of women had their hair done up in celluloid cases that were set off with a large and noisy hairpin. Mr. Zoutman, in speaking of them, said: "This immigration company was formed some time ago for the express purpose of getting people from Germany to come to this country. Philanthropic and wealthy Europeans formed it. This com-

ENORMOUS SUCCESS! A combination of catchy tunes, a wealth of the Grandest Music ever heard in Farce Comedy. The Great Black Band, composed of picked musicians, engaged to play music that has charmed the people of the United States made by this celebrated musical organization. Special open air singing.

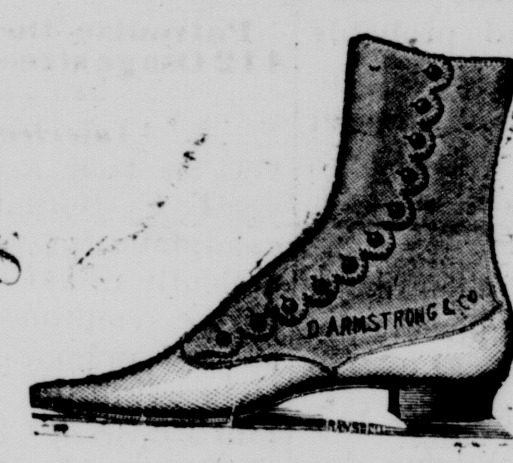

This concern was organized, largely for philanthropic purposes, many jumped at the chance to come to the land of freedom. Mr. Zoutman says this is only the initiative of a big future immigration. On February 11th, 1893, fully 1,000 families will leave Holland on the steamer Spawland.

Laid to Rest. The funeral of George W. L. Thompson, the printer, who died of typhoid fever Monday night, took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, No. 1418 South Missouri avenue, and was attended by a larger number of friends. Rev. A. R. Cronce conducted the ceremonies in a most impressive way. The pall bearers were selected from members of Typographical Union No. 206 of which he was a member.

Took an Appeal. William Ramsey, a colored teamster, was before Justice Fisher yesterday afternoon on a charge of stealing five bushels of corn from the field of Charles McVey, on Thanksgiving night. The defendant was found guilty. Through his attorneys, Sangree & Lamm, he took an appeal to the criminal court and furnished bond in the sum of $75 for his appearance.

pany had purchased a tract of 50,000 acres in San Luis valley, which was then nothing but a land of shrubbery. Through the Holland scheme of irrigation we converted this rugged land into the most excellent farms. This consumed some three years of hard work. Our agents in Germany were busy in collecting the first force. We would charge them nothing for transportation and offered each a good farm to be paid for after the first year's crops. With these inducements we soon had a crowd sufficient to make a town, which we agreed to call Alamosa. We commenced building the houses some time ago, and have eighteen completed already. We have one church and one school.

This crowd is made up of only good people from Holland. We refused to take any paupers or criminals. We started from Amsterdam on November 12th on the steamer Doubledam. The weather was horrible on the way, and the waves dashed high against the bulwarks. We reached New York on November 26th, and were retained in port about twelve hours. We then took an extra train on the Vandalia, and here we are.

The Immigration Company was incorporated under the laws of Holland August 4th, 1890. The high cost of land in Holland, $1,000 per acre, and high rentals thereof, discouraged many farmers. American produce is sold so cheaply in Holland that many of the latter country make but little profit. When

WON A WIFE ON THE ELECTION. How an Otterville Young Man Risked the Powers That Be and Got His Juliet. P. W. Woolery, a young farmer, of near Otterville, and Miss Susie A. Cooper, also of the same place, were married by Judge Hoy last evening and sent on their way rejoicing. The groom was complete master of the situation, as he had won the bride on an election bet. The proposition was that if Harrison was elected, Miss Cooper would not marry him; if Cleveland was elected, she would accept the inevitable—no "heads I win; tails you lose" business about it. When last seen the happy couple were going down the street, the groom having a flat iron in his hand, with which it is hoped he—or she—will smooth out all domestic wrinkles that may arise.

Runaway. The team of S. T. Lupe became frightened on Main street last evening and ran south to Second, thence west on second to the barn on Prospect. There being no driver, everybody gave the road to them. They ran into Mr. Lupe's barn doing but little damage.

Fined Five Dollars. Ed. B. Hudson, a former employee of B. S. Rembaugh and who struck the latter's son, Alonzo, on the head with an iron tub during an altercation, was fined $5 and costs before Justice Fisher yesterday afternoon.

CIRCULATION.

There are more Sedalia people regular readers of the EVENING DEMOCRAT than any other paper.

The railroad this winter—the convention hall next summer.

The comet is being as roundly denounced as the McKinley bill.

Both are pronounced frauds.

Sedalia can get the north and south railroad now. Nobody knows whether it can be secured next year or not.

All this gasconading about the Sedalia police not doing their duty is bosh, if not worse. It is the result of the shallow sensationalist.

Sedalia has done well in paving the principal thoroughfares. Now let's macadamize the cross streets and get rid of the mud nuisance, in a measure at least.

Whatever criticisms may be made concerning President Cleveland's former appointees, there are very few of them who do not show a willingness to step up to the trough again.

The republican organ is unfair to the great majority of the members of its own party when it persistently tries to place them in the attitude of fighting the town because it elected democratic officials.

There are several would-be democcratic bosses in Missouri who would gladly relieve President

Cleveland and the Missouri delegation from any trouble or labor in distributing the federal patronage in this state.

A pretty general request will go up to the general assembly from the school teachers of the state for the repeal of Superintendent Wolfe's institute law. Not that the live, progressive teachers of the state do not appreciate the value of organization and institute work, but they do not want anything quite so cast iron and tyrannical.

Sedalia is a peaceable, orderly, prosperous town, where life and property are safe and good order prevails. The effort of the republican organ to make it appear otherwise is only an attempt to injure the town as a punishment to the people for voting democrats into office. It is a repetition of the infamous Globe-Democrat's "poor old Missouri" tactics.

The international monetary conference is in session, but no one need expect a solution of the question of how to restore silver to its place as standard, will not be apt to devise a means of abolishing it. We have had several tariff revisions by the protected interests and each resulted in a victory for protection, and the masses of the people have had to speak twice in denunciation of the system. An equally emphatic demand will have to be made before silver is re-monetized. And it will be made, too, just as soon as the people get to it in the work of removing obstructions to general prosperity.

SENSELESS ECONOMY.

The Jefferson City Tribune, in speaking of economy in public affairs very truthfully says:

"There is a great demand over the country for economy in public affairs and there is undoubtedly room for much improvement. But we have noticed in this state that nearly every one who starts out to re-trench and reform begins and ends with attacking official salaries. This is not the way to practice economy in Missouri. Official salaries are not too high and many of them are not as high as they should be. One great leak is in criminal cost, and this can be and should be remedied. A number of counties draw more annually from the state in criminal costs than their entire revenue due the state. The way to practice economy is to attack everything that is not practical. Every institution and every bureau should be carefully looked after and learned to practice economy and any feature which is not practical should be cut off."

Yes. And one of the changes needed is in our judiciary.

Under the present system of circuit and criminal courts costs pile up immensely.

There should be a criminal court in every county in session whenever needed to try all criminal offenses. These long delays in bringing criminals to justice are very costly to the public.

A POPULAR CLAMOR.

The St. Louis Chronicle, an independent paper but an earnest advocate of tariff reform, hits the nail squarely on the head when it says:

"The cry for an extra session increases. The clamor of the people grows. If the government of the United States is a government of the people and by the people, then the strictest attention should be given to the clamor of the people. On November 8th the people voted for a reduction of the tariff. Their condition was such that they wanted relief. They were suffering from burdensome taxation. The suffering increases with time. The quicker the relief comes the better. 'Tis the voice of the west that reverberates over the land. The demands of the south swell the tumultuous cry."

It was hoped that the contests for postoffices could be postponed until after the inauguration of the democratic president, but in many places the contest has grown heated, and two of the members-elect to the next congress—Riley Hall and Charley Morgan—have stopped the fight that might have grown bitter if continued longer, by boldly announcing the names of those whom they proposed to recommend for certain offices. The plan is not a bad one. Where there are a number of applicants for a given position, somebody must suffer defeat and the quicker the contest is over, after it has once commenced, the less will be the chagrin and disappointment of the defeated. A congressman is bound to recommend an honest, competent, deserving democrat, and generally there are several such and the matter can be easily settled.

There are several excellent stone quarries near this city; there are several streets that need a coating of macadam, and several bums and vagrants show up in the police court occasionally without money to pay fines. Now, if Sedalia could just have a good, large, well-regulated workhouse, see how nicely these things would work together.

There are a half dozen applicants for every federal position in Missouri, and most of them are well qualified and worthy of the positions they seek. What does this mean? Does it indicate that business is not what it should be; that industrial pursuits are crowded, and that men cannot find profitable employment in private life? Or does it mean that official salaries are out of proportion to what the men who fill public positions could earn in private life? Or is the multiplicity of candidates the result of any peculiar glamor or attraction that official position has for the average American citizen? Whatever the reason may be, it is pretty evident that no public office can seek a good man very long without finding him.

The sentiment favorable to an extra session of congress grows stronger daily. It is growing among the thoughtful members of congress. It is growing even more rapidly among the people. There was an emphatic demand for a reform of the tariff and the repeal of the McKinley bill, and it would have been all the better if the new congress could have met on the first of December. But as that cannot be, under the present order of things, the next best plan is to have the extra session as early as possible next spring. The wise public servant should realize that the people are his employers, not his guardians, and when they demand a certain course of action on his part, it is to be expected that they will not be disappointed.

The steady and conservative old city of St. Joseph is enjoying a sensation just now that promises to stir society to its very foundations, and it all comes from the unexpected action of a grand jury. The question of suppressing bawdy houses was brought before the jury and resulted in indictments against S. C. Woodson, J. M. Hall, Isaac Curd and James Patton, charging them with renting and leasing property for immoral purposes. One of the defendants is a leading banker, another a well known real estate agent, and another a local capitalist. All are society leaders and prominent in business circles.

The Coffeyville blacksmith, John Kloeher, whose deadly Winchester brought to earth three of the Dalton gang of desperadoes, now carries a gun for his own protection. He has received over thirty letters threatening his life, and probably as many from dime museum proprietors, and suddenly finds himself famous, all because he learned to shoot quick and straight.

From our sister republic, France, come stories of corruption that rival the rascally credit moblizer of this country. It is charged that the Panama Canal Company distributed a corruption fund of 3,000,000 francs among one hundred and fifty members of the chamber of deputies and thus secured legislation in its interests.

There is a well founded suspicion that a great many million dollars can be saved to the people of the United States by the purification of the pension rolls and the removal of every name therefrom except the really deserving. With nearly a million pensioners now, and the list constantly increasing, the evil has become alarming.

The Southern Planter All Right.

An interesting letter, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, was received a few days ago from Planter Richardson, of Louisiana and Mississippi, the most extensive planter in the south, probably. He owns and directs a dozen or more plantations. A point of his letter was the fact that by raising his own feed he is reducing his outlay on a cotton crop season, about seven months, fully $50,000. Everything he feeds is now grown on his own soil, and still he is not losing any of his former income producing capacity. This letter gives encouragement to the enthusiastic believer in the future of the south. In former years that section was almost entirely dependent upon the north for everything necessary to keep soul and body together, in man and beast. Now they are producing corn and oats, and instead of paying $20 or more per ton for hay, have hay to sell at prices which will warrant its shipment north, though this is entirely on account of the high freight rates. One other planter, in the city a few days ago, told of having put 250 acres of overflooded land into sweet potatoes, being rewarded with a magnificent crop, where a year ago he would have allowed it to remain idle. Evidently the south has learned a lesson, but it will not be to the advantage of the north, as she will buy more of the luxuries instead of the necessities of life.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Play Last Night.

Charming Fanny Rice and her "Jolly Surprise" company packed Wood's Opera House last night with an appreciative audience, which showed from the beginning that it expected to be entertained, and it is a pleasure to know that laughter waved and rippled throughout the house during the entire evening. "The Little Broomstick," an operetta by Offenbach, was the curtain raiser, and a daintier, sweeter little musical gem was never seen in the city. "A Jolly Surprise" is a happy medium between genuine farce-comedy and the legitimate. It is distinguished from the first by a definite plot and from the latter by its boisterous tendencies. Miss Rice has a magnetic, graceful presence that is an acceptable substitute for any short comings in her terpsichorean ability. Charles Bradshaw, as David Bradbur, afflicted with a presumptuous mother-in-law, was thoroughly enjoyable. Robert Vernon, as Chas. Carol, "no longer tied to the apron strings," ably assisted in making life miserable for his old friend, Bradbur, by suggesting the lost pleasures of their bachelor days. The remainder of the company were well received. The travesty on Galatea was unimportant.

"A Social Session."

Coming to the Opera House next Saturday evening, Dec. 3, has been thoroughly and completely re-written and revised, and it now appears a novel and magnificent creation, replete with life and action, bubbling over with fun and jollity and studded with the brightest gems of music and song; appealing to the most elevated musical tastes, and with its actors, comedians, vocalists, dancers and musicians forming a combination that at once places this company at the head of recognized American comedies.

There is no one person starred in "Social Session"—every character is interpreted by a clever artist and each has full power to make his individual part as great a success as possible. They come to our city with a record of five years of solid success and the praise of press and public from ocean to ocean.

American Cholera.

From the Daily Reveille, Whatcom, Wash.

"T. C. Burnett, the democratic candidate for sheriff, was taken violently ill at Clearbrook. He had all the symptoms of Asiatic cholera, and for an hour or two it was feared he would die. They finally gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which revived him until a physician arrived." That is precisely what the manufacturers of that medicine recommend for cholera. Send for a physician but give their medicine until the physician arrives. If cholera becomes prevalent in this country next summer this preparation will be in great demand because it can always be depended upon. For sale by Aug. Fleischmann, druggist.

From Hutchinson News.

One of the visiting masters took one of the visiting mams buggying this afternoon. As they passed down Main street a drummer remarked, "There goes a spanking team," and the reporter wondered how he knew that they were school teachers.

Farmers come fifteen miles to my store to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many of them, like myself, are never without it in their homes. It cured my boy of a severe attack of croup and, I believe, saved his life—K. DALTON, Laura, Russell county, Kansas. This remedy is a certain cure for croup and, if used as soon as the first symptoms appear, will prevent the attack. For sale by Aug. Fleischmann, Druggist.

CARTER'S

LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Aches they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all, look to the face of so many lives that have been where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vial at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

A Proposition to Suspend Immigration.

AN EXCEPTION ALLOWED VISITORS.

Also Countries of North and South America—Educational and Money Qualifications Considered Necessary.

Nov. 30.—The senate committee on immigration met here yesterday with six of its members in attendance. Previous to adjourning the committee considered the following proposition, without, however, reaching any conclusion:

All immigration except from the North and South American countries shall be suspended for one year from March 1, 1893, the law to be so framed as not to hinder the free return of American citizens or the easy admission of visitors. No vote was taken on this resolution, but it is probable that one may be taken at to-day's meeting and there is reason for believing that it will be passed.

The committee also decided that it was advisable to submit to congress for consideration a law embracing the following propositions:

No immigrant shall be admitted to the United States between the age of 12 and 55 years unless he can read and write freely and easily his native language, nor shall a person above 55 be admitted who cannot read or write except as a member of a family coming.

No immigrants shall be admitted unless he possess $100 in money or its equivalent except that the head of a family may bring with him or send for the other members of his family if he or they possess $5 for each member.

All intending immigrants shall bring with them certificates from United States consuls abroad showing that they have satisfied such consul that they have a right to gain such admission as immigrants.

All persons seeking final naturalization papers shall give reasonable notice to the court to whom they intend to apply and some official representing the government shall investigate the facts upon the other side when the application is offered.

A Catastrophe.

A gray cat and a wooly dog got into a fight on the union depot platform this morning and had a lively time chewing each others necks, though Mont Carnes tried his best to separate the blood thirsty and noisy combatants, and even thought of turning in a police alarm. The dog finally concluded that it was getting the worst of it, and with Superintendent Meade Stillwell went to Pleasant Hill on the fast mail this morning.

Mose Rainey, the popular switchman, is pulling pins again after a two weeks' vacation.

The fast mail was delayed at the depot about five minutes with a hot box on the express car.

John Bonker is flagging at the Fifth street crossing. Poor health and old age has caused Mr. Campbell to resign.

C. E. Pearl, passenger agent of the O. & M., with headquarters at St. Joseph, Mo., was in the city last evening and was a pleasant caller at the DEMOCRAT office. He has our thanks for the latest map of his great road.

The Leavenworth Rapid Transit railroad was sold by the sheriff yesterday to Warren F. Putnam, of Boston, for $27,000. The sale was made to satisfy a mortgage held by O. H. Piper, who advanced considerable money for its construction four years ago. The road runs through the city and from Fort Leavenworth to the soldiers' home.

Fish Commission Car Damaged.

One of the Missouri Fish commission cars from St. Joseph, on its way to St. Louis, was at the M. K. & T. shops yesterday undergoing repairs for damages received in a big wreck on the I. & S. There were but few fish in the tanks.

A Costly Wreck.

A costly smashup occurred in the Denison yards last Monday night. While being switched, six cabooses broke loose and ran away down the hill, crashing into each other and increasing the supply of company kindling wood.

Concluded A Recreant Lover.

OMAHA, NEB., November 30.—Lot Shields, a pretty little blonde, created a sensation in the First National Bank this afternoon by calling Mr. Geo. M. Winkelman, one of the book-keepers, from his desk and coqueting him. He received several severe cuts about the face. Miss Shields is the daughter of one of the oldest Missouri Pacific conductors in the West. She claimed that Winkelman had been engaged to her for six years, but recently arranged to marry another girl.

The Rock Island's Kansas City Case.

The Missouri supreme court has affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of the Kansas City Union Depot company vs. the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad company, in a damage suit. The amount involved, including costs, approximates $400,000. The suit began in 1877, when the Rock Island was a party to the agreement to build a depot at Kansas City. When the Rock Island's big Western systems were completed the Union Depot company thought the road would make additional payments, which it refused to do. A suit was instituted and the original amount of $6,745 swelled to the present figure, which the Union Depot company will lose unless it gets a different ruling in the United States supreme court.

Track Laying Commenced.

Tuesday was quite a day for the gathering of railroad magnates in Rocheport. Col. J. H. Bethune, who is a large shareholder in the M. K. & E., and who is also the head contractor for the building of the road from New Franklin to Claysville, came up from St. Louis Sunday night. It being pay day on the line, Col. Bethune distributed something over $10,000 in this vicinity. Major H. C. Wheeler, general superintendent of the road, and Mr. R. P. Van Deusan, chief engineer, came down the line Tuesday afternoon. These gentlemen were well pleased with the work and stated that when completed it would be one of the best roads in the west. Mr. Van Deusan stated that the track laying would be begun at New Franklin next Monday and would be pushed rapidly. He also said that the Commercial had built the road more rapidly than the work had really progressed. It was his opinion that a passenger train would not go over the road until about the first of March. The construction trains, however, will soon be on the road and will afford an available mode of travel until the regular trains will be put in motion.

A Great Need in Every Great City

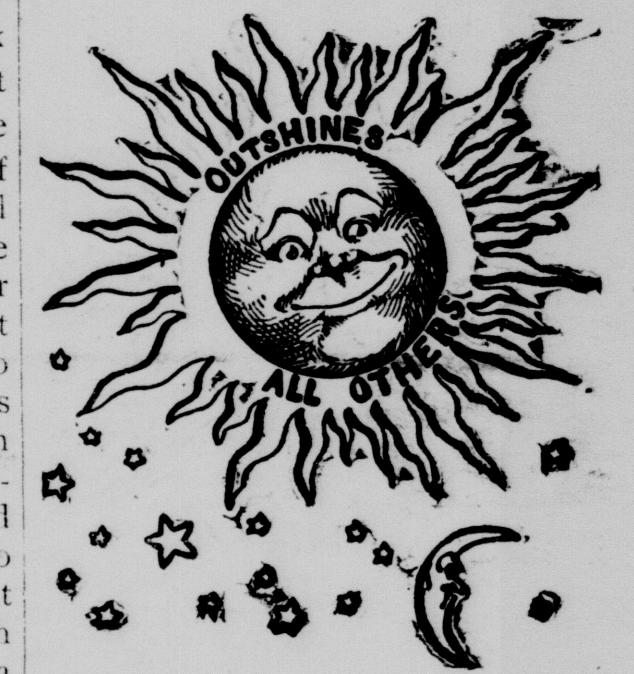

Jacob A. Rills, in the Forum.

I have heard it said a thousand times that in this busy city of New York no one who really wants work need go idle long; but in the best season, when work and wages are most plentiful, this is only half true. The work may be there and the same time thousands may be going around looking very hard for it, yet fail to find it. They do not know where to look and there is no one to tell them. Perhaps they do not know enough of our language to ask and be understood. Some agency is needed to bring the work and those who own it together under auspices that would inspire confidence on both sides. I remember being called a year or two ago, in my capacity as police reporter, to a tenement on the west side—I think it was in West Thirty-seventh street—where a painter had that day cut his throat. Standing there by the corpse, I learned from the sobbing widow that the man was desperate for want of work. He had been on the streets for weeks and his children were starving. It happened that I had been for just the same length of time looking for a man to paint my house out in the country, where painters were scarce and very busy. I had just made up my mind to advertise that day. There lay this painter dead because he could find no one to give him work, while I would have been glad to pay him more than the wages of his trade to get him to work for me. Had there been any means of bringing us together to which we would both naturally have resorted, he would have been alive and his family self-supporting. Now it seemed certain to become a burden to the public.

It was not the only instance of that sort by very many I had come across. I thought then, and I think now, that some great central labor bureau conducted by a thoroughly responsible organization that could appeal to the community with the certainty not only of enlisting the aid of employers, but also of reaching the unemployed, would be one of the greatest boons that could be conferred upon the poor.

He's All Right.

John Turner, machinist at the "Katy," shops, is "setting 'em up" to-day to the boys. One of the finest boys ever seen in the city made his appearance at an early hour this morning.

OVERCOAT SALE:

In the very heart of the season, we give the people of Sedalia the elegant chance to buy a first-class overcoat for little money, having bought over six hundred (600) overcoats at less than manufacturer's cost (ready cash did it), enables us to offer you, from now until they are sold out, good $14, $15, $16, $17 and $18 overcoats in Kersey, Meltons, Cassimers, Friezes, Chinchillas, in all the new colorings, dark or light shades, for the small sum of

ST. LOUIS CLOTHING CO.,
Corner Second and Ohio Streets.We also offer this week special drives in BOYS' UNDERWEAR,

For 25, 35, 50 & 75 Cents.

COME AND SEE THEM.Counterfeiting.—In a few days you will undoubtedly see advertised, by some would-be competitor, Overcoats for $12 or $12.50, but let us assure you, these Overcoats we offer you in this Special Sale were purchased for this occasion, and we have too many to speculate on them at regular prices—hence they must go—at $12.50, and all imitating sales can't compare with our values. Of course, if there were no genuine dollars, there would be no counterfeits. Pretty hard to be the counterfeits sometimes, but in our Special Overcoat offerings you will easily detect the genuine at sight.
